Echo Lake 19th Annual Collaborative Conference

June 7, 8, 9 & 10, 2017

The Echo Lake Collaborative Conferences are held each Spring at Bucks County Community College in Newtown, Pennsylvania. The purpose of the conference is to bring together area artists, students, and internationally recognized artists in a setting that encourages creativity and collaboration. For three days the attendees work in wood, metal, glass, and other mediums to produce a collection of art pieces. At the conclusion a banquet is held and all of the art is sold at auction to fund future conferences, make grants to the Bucks County Community College and the Center for Art in Wood, and provide awards for Bucks County Community College students.

This year's award winners are:

Echo Lake Awards of Excellence: Francis Brunell, Gabe Cortez, Hannah Ferguson, Salvatore LoSapio, Catalyn Phillips, Kamonwan Sangthong, Michelle Seliga, Barbara Serratore

Kathleen Sticker Award of Excellence: Rachel Castaldo

2017 Echo Lake Steering Committee: John Mathews, Joe Seltzer, Mark Sfirri, Ward Stevens, and Bil Sticker

Long-time Echo contributor, Joyce McCullough, passed away this year, but not before she began collaborating on the pieces shown here. These items were auctioned to create a scholarship in her name. Joyce was the epitome of Echo and is so sadly missed.
