OF WOODTURNERS

A New Look for the Newsletter and Website

In an effort to bring you better pictures and connected content, we are introducing a new newsletter and website! Instead of downloading a pdf with tiny pictures, you can click through to Bucks Woodturners to get full size pictures and news that is better linked to the turning world. When you get to the Home page, click on the pictures shown at the top for a real treat in turning art. This is all member work!

Consider both new additions as works in progress as we continue to learn new software and the wonders of social media. Yes, for the more savvy members, we'll experiment with the likes of Facebook and Twitter. In the meantime, you will find

Member News in the Bucks Blog and a calendar and photo blog of happenings in the Events drop-down. Adding new items is a breeze, so feel free to send news and pictures. If you are into blogging, and would like a place to do it, please let us know!

A big addition to the site is the Members Gallery where all members are invited to share their picture and examples of their work. Imagine sharing your turnings with family and friends with your tablet, smart phone or computer- well now you can! Throughout the month we will continue to populate the Resources drop-down, but explore it now and give us your suggestions– it's easy with the Contact Us form.

Good or bad let us know what you think.

Sharon Doughtie and The Celtic Knot

Sharon Doughtie brought her Hawaiian mystique to Buck Woodturners back in June when she shared her techniques of designing and employing Celtic knots on her turnings. She had all present participating in the exercise of drawing a knot! And if that weren't enough, courtesy of Matt Overton, she came back and gave a Hands-on Workshop covering knot design, drawing tips, burning and painting. Everyone really enjoyed the day. For more pictures of her demonstration and workshop...click here.

A Great Picnic

The first Bucks Woodturners picnic held on July 19th. Everyone brought along a covered dish while Matt grilled chicken, burgers, and dogs. Everything was delicious, and it was great to sit outside and have a relaxing chat at Matt and Diana's welcoming home. There were a few show and tell pieces, and Matt handed out some bowl blanks to the willing and able. Many thanks to Matt and Diana for hosting this fun day! Check out more pictures of the picnic: click here.
